OLDBURY is a township, village and parish, on the road from Bridgnorth to Cleobury Mortimer, 1 mile south-west from Bridgnorth station, on the Wellington & Craven Arms branch of the Great Western railway, in the Southern division of the county, Chelmarsh division of Stottesdon hundred, Bridgnorth union, petty sessional division and county court district, Bridgnorth rural deanery, Ludlow arch-deaconry and diocese of Hereford. The church of St. Nicholas is an ancient building of stone in the Early English style, consisting of chancel, nave of three bays, north aisle, south porch and a western turret containing one bell: and was restored in 1858 by the Rev. John Purton M.A. 49 years rector of this parish, who died 12 July, 1883, and to whose memory a carved oak pulpit, reading desk and choir seats were given in 1884 by his friends and parishioners and a carved oak eagle lectern by the Bishop and clergy of the diocese; there is also a memorial brass to him, against the south wall of the chancel: the east window and one other in the chancel and five in the nave are stained: there are sittings for 206 persons. The register dates from the year 1582. The living is a rectory, average tithe rent-charge

£170, net yearly value £176, with 18 acres of glebe and residence, in the gift of the Lord Chancellor, and held since 1883 by the Rev. John Preston Wright M.A. of Christ's College, Cambridge. The sum of £50, bequeathed by some person unknown, and deposited in the Bridgnorth Savings Bank, produces £1 7s. 6d. which is given away in bread at the discretion of the rector and churchwardens, after the morning service, on the six Sundays next after Christmas Day: the interest of a further sum of £50, also deposited in the above Bank, is given away in bread on Easter Day and the five following Sundays. The principal landowners are Lord Acton, lord of the manor, Charles J. Cooper esq. Mrs. Gordon and Richard H. Boycott esq. The soil is a rich loam; the subsoil is clay. The land is chiefly pasture. The area is 808 acres; rateable value, £3,007; the population in 1881 was 257.

Sexton, Thomas Meyrick.
